

Summer Work for Advanced Level History

Studying history at Bewdley Sixth Form is a joyful challenge. During the 2-year course you will gain an insight into America from 1945-80 and look at the Tudor dynasty. You will develop key skills such as analysis, evaluation and critical thinking.

The following research tasks will help you develop some of the initial skills and knowledge needed for this course. All the tasks for the American Dream and The Tudors must be completed.

Investigation – The American Dream: Illusion or Reality

You need to write / type your answers on separate paper to be handed in first lesson back.

1. Create a short biography of President Truman. (1 side max) Don't just copy and paste! – Have a bibliography to show the variety of sources used.

1. Have a written definition for each of the following words:

- Congress
- Senate
- House of Representatives
- Executive
- Judiciary
- Federal
- Democrats
- Republicans
- Checks and balances
- Separation of powers
- Affluence

3. Create a page explaining how affluent American society was by 1945 and the end of WWII. Think about examining different perspectives.

4. WEB QUEST: The Cold War - On the next page - Complete research using a variety of sources; the web, books etc. Answer the questions and complete the activities below. Some are very simple and straight forward – others are a little more complex. This research will underpin lots of the course and should be something you can refer back to. Keep a note of the sites/ books etc that you use as your last Q asks you to submit a bibliography to show the variety of resources used.

Summer Work for Advanced Level History

Investigation: The Tudors 1485-1603

The Tudor period is the period between 1485 and 1603 in England and Wales and includes the Elizabethan period which ends with the completion of the reign of Elizabeth I in 1603. This is a really fascinating period of history! It is an era full of change and some very interesting characters!

Over the summer I would like you to firstly familiarise yourself with the period. Look up key dates, read about key figures such as Henry VII or Henry VIII, watch anything Tudor related (there is loads on you tube!). Basically try to get a feel for what life was like in the Tudor times. This is a great podcast:

<https://thehistoryofengland.co.uk/podcasts/history-of-england/>

You should also watch this: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=efY2d49_s0o to introduce you to the role of the Monarch and the Tudor era.

Then you MUST complete the following tasks:

1. Create a timeline of the monarchs of the Tudor period. You must include dates and four key points of information for each monarch.

2. Produce a fact file about Henry VII. You must include key basic information (name, date, parents, place of birth etc). You must then include information about Henry VII's claim to the throne, the Battle of Bosworth and how Henry VII started to consolidate power. Include a section for each of these. I would expect the whole fact file to be about two sides of A4.
3. Lastly, research the character of Henry VII. What type of person was he? Or, what type of person do people think he is? Are they right? This can be presented as notes or a mind map- your choice!

This work will be collected during your first lesson in year 12 so it must be completed for then. Remember that to be successful at A- Level History you must undertake lots of independent study, so this will be a good start. Also, please make sure that you have a folder for when lessons start (an A4 lever arch would be best).

If you have any questions about the work, then please let Miss Schmidt know
